SUBJECT: Kyrgyzstan Proposals for Trafficking in Persons
G/TIP-Managed FY 2008 ESF and INCLE Funds

REF: 07 State 161503

¶1. Per reftel instructions, Post solicited anti-trafficking in persons project proposals from local organizations. Post received three proposals. Per reftel instructions, the complete project proposals have been forwarded via e-mail to G/TIP.

¶2. Post has reviewed the following project proposals:

A) Applicant: International Organization of Migration (IOM)

Requested Funding: $ 326,970

Project title: Combating Trafficking in Persons in The Kyrgyz Republic

Project Duration: 18 months

Proposal Abstract: By building upon and complementing IOM's past and present activities in the Kyrgyz Republic against trafficking in persons, the overall program approach addresses three integrated and interrelated aspects of this phenomenon and consequently contributes to the efforts of the Kyrgyz authorities in combating trafficking in persons to, from and through Kyrgyzstan: prevention through the dissemination of information by NGO hotlines to further increase public awareness; protection and reintegration assistance through support to Victims of Trafficking who are returning/have returned to the Kyrgyz Republic by the NGO network; prosecution by supporting law enforcement and judiciary structures to more effectively act against crimes of trafficking in persons.

The project activities will include:

Prevention: IOM will continue to support hotlines operated by partner NGOs in Bishkek, Osh, Jalal-Abad, Talas, Karakol, Batken, and Naryn cities. Counter-trafficking hotlines will serve not only as a prevention and assistance mechanism for potential and real victims of trafficking, but also as a data-gathering mechanism for critical information on perceptions and knowledge of trafficking from potential victims.

Protection: This project will continue the most important practical activity of direct assistance in the voluntary return, rehabilitation and reintegration of Victims of Trafficking implemented by local partner NGOs under the coordination of IOM Bishkek. This assistance will include the safe and voluntary return of victims, medical and psychological check-ups and treatment if necessary, social and legal assistance, assistance in processing documents, and assistance in gaining employment when possible.

Prosecution: This project will provide additional training to "front-line" law enforcement and prosecutorial officials from specific regions seriously affected by trafficking. The participants include border guards, investigators, prosecutors, working-level police and immigration officials, judges and public attorneys and other relevant law enforcement officials, who will be apprised of the latest policy guidelines and legislative developments concerning the issue and of victim identification techniques, as well as best practices on how to work with victims and convict traffickers. The training will assist law enforcement and judiciary structures to act more effectively against crimes of trafficking, and will assist victims by sensitizing law enforcement to victims' basic needs. The training will also seek to include counterpart officials from different agencies, when possible, thereby improving cooperation between law enforcement and prosecutorial officials responsible for managing borders and the prosecution of traffickers. The training will also allow counterpart law enforcement officials to understand more clearly how a cooperative approach to counter-trafficking will improve their ability to do their work.
